Poetry.

THEN AND NOW.

When I was a little maid,
I waited on myself;
I washed my mother's teacups,
And set them on the shelf.

I had a little garden
Most beautiful to see;
I wished that I had somebody
To play in it with me.

Nurse was in mamma's room,
I know her by her cap;
She held a lovely baby boy
Asleep upon her lap.

As soon as he could learn to walk,
I led him by my side—
My brother and my play fellow—
Until the day he died!

Now I am an old maid,
I walk upon myself;
I only wipe one teacup,
And set it on the shelf.

AFTER.

After the shower, the tranquil sun;
After the snow, the emerald leaves;
Silver stars when the day is done;
After the harvest, the the golden sheaves.

After the clouds, the violet sky,
After the tempest, the lull of waves;
Quiet woods when the winds go by;
After the battle, peaceful graves.

After the knell, the wedding bells;
After the bud, the radiant rose;
Joyful greetings from sad farewells;
After our weeping, sweet repose.

After the burden, the blissful need;
After the flight, the doway rest;
After the furrow, the walking seed;
After the shadowy river—rest!

A YANKEE IN A TIGHT PLACE.

A down-easter thus relates an adventure he had while traveling on foot in one of the Western States: "Well, you see back here about a mile beyond the Nockyernoscoff creek, I wur walking along as happy as a lark, looking about over the praries and thinking heow beautiful the All Seeing had made the world and what awful taters this sile would raise, when I see a big drove of cattle just one side. I wur admirin' heow fat and slick they wur, an' lookin' at their good points, when an almighty great brindle bull jumped up out'n the tall grass, and begin to shake his all-fired big curly head an' beller an' switch his tail an' paw the ground over his back. I concluded it were best to let on like'n if I wa'nt afraid, an' so I begun to whistle, 'Take her down, Sal,' and other good chunes, thinkin' as heow I'd slip past the blasted old cuss; but jist as I got oppersite, he gin a snort an' begin to fetch a rake in the sile with his fore feet. I put in a few quick steps 'bout then, but was afeard to run, cos I knowed if I did he'd feel encouraged. Putty soon he begin to come on a trot, an' then I let out in a kind of canter. Then he riz to a lope, an' seein' it wur no use waitin' for him to quit, I just leaned these ere legs of mine an' come down to best time. I looked 'beout for something to climb, but thare I ware in the cussed prairie and not a pea stick to be seen nigher than a mile ahead—heow I did want to stop right thare an' cuss the blarted prairies. I gin a glance over my shoulder an' see the everlastin' cuss with his nose down an' his tail up, comin' jist on the dead lay deown, and I let my legs count another notch. The chase went nip an' tuck till I got near the creek, when I see that the bull were only "beout a hundred yards behind me. Lord Jehossyfat, but I felt queerish when I was sartin he were gainin; it gave me such a skeer that my heart seemed to dissolve in dish-water, and my legs kinder lost their feelin', so I could see a lot of trees ahead a little ways, an' ef I could hold eout three minits longer I'd be to em. I looked back, and the sufferin' Moses, ef the bull warn't within twenty feet of me, his eyes all green and his nostrils lookin' like I mite a put my head in them, a' as red as a bolt of new flannil. I got almost to the creek when I found the timber wur on the oppersite side from me, an' the bull so close I could almost feel his breath on my cheek. I thot of my famerly in that offel time; sez I, "Farewell, little Jed, an' you, Sarer Ann, my gentle companions." Jist at this instant I see a stump right on the bank of the creek, an' made a spring for it, expecting to get on top on't, but it happened to be holler an' I landed inside. I jist had room to squeeze deown in it an' git my head below the top, an' not a darn bit too soon wur I in, for as my topknot went deown, Mr. Bull's head came up whack agin stump till every thing jingled.

"You bet'er beleve I felt thankful I wur housed at last; and the old cuss of a bull, wasn't he disappointed! Lord, heow he did rave round that stump, switch his tail, paw the sile, and beller. I peeped up at him, jist to see how he were gettin' on but I kalkerlate I peeped down again offel suddent, for I hadn't more'n got my head up till his horns comes a straddle on it, and his skull hit the stump like a maul. The little incident convinced me that the best thing I could was, in the langwidge of Wheeler, to lay low, watch the black ducks and chaw pokeroot. Just as I'd made up my mind not to put up my head again, I felt the offulest pain take me in the leg. I never see, an' at the same time it commence to whiz, whiz, deown in the bottom of the hollow stump. I tried to look down to see what on airth it could be, but the holler was so narrer I couldn't get a chance to look, an at once it popped into my head that there were a rattlesnake in the stump. When I thot of that I made an offel plunge to get out of the horrid den; but the cussed bull warn't more'n six feet off, an' the minit he seed my head came at me full chisel. The fust I knowed I had dodged back into the stump again, and hadn't more'n touched bottom afore I felt another offel keen bite in my leg. I made a rush to get out agin, but the cussed, infernal bull drove at me an' I was bleeged to pop back again. As I squeezed down inter my stump again, bet'er barrel of rum that Sarer Ann would be a widder in less'n ten hours. I tried to cipher out which would be the most becomin' for a Christian, to be pizened to death by an offel great snaik, or have my inards slung to the four winds by a cussed brindle bull. I thot of the martyrs—of Amos biled in ile, Elizer smeared with honey, and Joseph tempted by Pottifer's wife, and concluded that I ott to profit by their example, an' grin and bear it, no matter how much it went agin the grain. But I got jist then an offel bite or tew, an'ter save my soul couldn't help stickin up my head, an' the bull bein' on had let drive an' filled my eyes full of dirt an' bark, so deown I bobbed agin for snaiks. I now begun to get bitten offel frequently, an' I squirmed an' twisted an' screeched at a fast rate, an' in grabbin' around I ketched something an' got a bite in the hand.

"I helt my hold on to it, and behold, it proved to be nothin," but a yaller jacket. When I found I wasn't snaik bit, I felt suthin lift off my stummick like a bag of shot. Glory to God! sez I, I may live to pertect the widder an' fatherless yit. I felt for a minnit as if I didn't keer for all the yaller jackets between the Mississippi and the Missouri, but the blessed Jerusha! I hadn't seen one there wher I seen a thousand in another minnit. The whole holler of the stump got yaller with 'em. I couldn't stand it long that way. I tried to think of some kind of prayer suitable to the occasion, an' commenced: "Now I lay me down to sleep;" but, by Jewdas, I couldn't pray for cussin; I jist swore, bull or not bull, I wur gwin to emigrate for that particelar spot; but, every time I put my head above the stump, the bull pitched at me, an' the stump jist like a maul; he looked offel ferocious, with his eyes as green as the fust emerald from his mouth. I was lookin' up and down so continuely that I was eboout half the time in the stump an' half the time eout, an' at last I felt the stump beginnin' to give way under the thumps of the infernal old brindle heathen, an' I swar my heart riz straight on end. I made up my mind to git eout of that, somehow, purty quick, but jist at the minnit I raised up my head to jump eout an' run, the old cuss came at me, with head deown an' tail up, at locomotive speed, an' as I dodged deown he struck the stump, tore it up at the roots an' shot me eout like a bumbshell clear over the band into the creek; an' after me come stump, bull an' all. The fore feet or some on 'em of the bull struck me right on the back and knockin' me clean deown inter the muddy bottom of the creek. When I riz the fus thing I seed wur the old feller's tail, on' as I couldn't swim a lick, I made a grab for it an' made him tow me ashore. When we got there, I let go an' run one way, while the bull run the other, an' that's the long an' short on."

Do it Well.

What ever you do, do it well. A job slighted, because it is apparently unimportant, leads to habitual neglect, so that men degenerate, insensible, into bad workmen.

"That is a good rough job," said a foreman in our hearing, and he meant that it was a piece of work, not elegant in itself, but strongly made, and well put together.

Training the hand and eye to do work well, leads individuals to form correct habits in other respects, and a good workman is, in most cases, a good citizen. No one need hope to rise above his present situation, who suffers small things to pass by unimproved, or who neglects metaphorically speaking, to pick up a cent because it is not a dollar.

Some of the wisest law makers, the best statesmen, the most gifted artists the most merciful judges, the most ingenius mechanics rose from the great mass.

A rival to a cetain lawyer sought to humiliate him publicly, by saying, "You blacked my father's boots once." "Yes," replied the lawyer unabashed "and I did it well." And by his habit of doing even mean things well, he rose to greater.

Take heart, all who toil! all youths in humble situations, all in adverse circumstances. If it be but to drive the plow, strive to do it well; if only to cut bolts, make good ones; or to blow the bellow, keep the iron hot. It is attention to business that lifts the feet high up on the ladder.

Says the good book—"seest thou a man diligent in his business? he shall stand before kings; he shall not stand before mean men."

The Right of Colored People to Ride in Cars.

Judge Agnew has just delivered an opinion which settles a vexed question, and, in our judgment, takes the right ground on a subject involving nothing more than a social right. The appeal before the Court was made as to the right of colored people to use the street and railroad cars of the Commonwealth, on which Judge Agnew reversed the decision of the lower court on the subject of the rights of colored passengers. He says that if a railroad company provide seats equal in convenience, comfort and safety for the colored passengers, there is no law which will enable them to refuse those seats and demand others. This is Republican doctrine enunciated by a Republican Judge and sustained by a Republican colleague. It involves a principal which affects the legal rights of all men, and we can favor this right without necessarily insisting that the black man is entitled to equal social rights. When a man pays his money for a public accommodation he has a right to its full enjoyment. That's the germ of Judge Agnew's decision. When a company set apart seats in a car for the use of the colored people, which seats are equal in all respects to others in the same mode of conveyance used by white people, the negro has no legal right to question the regulation of the railroad company making the arrangement. On the same principle, railroad companies have a right to set apart cars for ladies. The accommodations in such cars are not superior to other cars in the same train. But gentlemen unaccompanied by ladies are not admitted. There are seats for men in other cars equally as soft and as clean as those in the ladies' car. So with the black man. Seats can be set apart for him, equal in all respects to those used by the white man. The negro must occupy such seats. If a white man or woman choose to occupy those seats, it is their choice. So if a lady desires to enter a gentleman's car, it is her choice. But the company reserves the right to say where men unaccompanied by ladies, and colored people, shall ride, and there is no law to debar corporations from these actions. We are satisfied with the decision.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

GOOD BUSINESS MEN.

To me, one of the most admirable things in the world is business punctilio. I think it is rare to find very bad men among thorough business men. I do not say that a good business man is necessarily religious, or even necessarily without vices, I mean that it is simply difficult to be strictly honest in business, and sensitive in all matters pertaining to business engagements and thoroughly punctual in the fulfillment of all business obligations, and at the same time to be loose in morals and dissipated in personal habits. I have great respect for those rigid laws of the counting room which regulate dealings between man and man, and which make the counting room as exact in all matters of time and exchange as a banking house—which ignore friendship, affection, and all personal considerations whatsoever—which place neighbors and brothers on the same platform with enemies and aliens, and which make an autocrat of an accountant, who is, at the same time, strictly an obedient subject of his own laws.

I say it is hard for a man to enter as a perfectly harmonious element into this grand system of business, and submit himself to its rigid rules, and to maintain his position with perfect integrity, and, at the same time, be a very bad man. To a certain extent, he bows to and obeys a high standard of life. He may not always recognize the moral element which it embodies. He may take a selfish view of the whole matter, but he cannot be entirely insensible to the principle of personal honor which it involves, or fail to be influenced by the personal habits which it enforces.

Some of the best business men I have ever known. Men who have acquired wealth by rigid adherence to business integrity, who have sometimes been deemed harsh, and hard by those with whom they have had business relations, have shown a liberality and generosity towards objects of charity which have placed them among the world's benefactors. Men who have exacted the last fraction of a cent with one hand, in the way of business, have disbursed thousands of dollars with the other in the way of charity.—Dr. Holland.

THE Italians of San Francisco held a meeting and passed resolutions condemning the action of Victor Emanuel and Louis Napoleon. A subscription for the benfit of Garibaldi was opened and some two thousand dollars collected to be forwarded to Italy to the United States Minister Marsh, together with a letter thanking him in in the name of the Italian population there, for the simpathy shown Garibaldi.

KIND words are the brightest flowers of earth's existance; they make a very paradise of the humblest home that the world can show. Use them and especially around the fireside circle. They are jewels beyond price, and more precious to heal the wounded heart, and make the weighed down spirit glad than all the other blessings the world can give.

Aaron Burr.

When Aaron Burr returned to New York city to practice law after his voluntary exile in Europe, he found the late Rev. Jedidiah Burchard, then a celebrated revivalist, holding a serious of protracted meetings in his family church. He attended from habit, always went late, and disturbed the services by attracting to himself the attention of the audience on account of his infamous notoriety as the man who shot Alexander Hamilton, and who had been tried for treason. Mr. Burchard resolved to rebuke him openly. The next Sabbath he came in and got about half way up the aisle, the clergyman paused in his discourse, and pointing at Colonel Burr, said in the most scathing manner. "You hoary-headed old sinner, I'll appear against you at the day of judgment!"

The proud, defiant old man standing erect as ever with that perfect composure which never deserted him, and fixing his fine gray eyes on the occupant of the pulpit, replied, "Mr. Burchard, I have observed through a long course of professional experience that the very meanest class of criminals are those who turn States evidence."

A Good Love Story.

An Ohio paper tells the following novel story: "A young couple planned an elopement, the girl descended from her room on the traditional ladder, but at the gate they were met by the father of the girl and a minister, by whom the young couple were escorted to the parlor, where, to their surprise, they found all their relatives collected for the marriage ceremonies, which took place at once. It was a neat paternal freak, but not near as neat as that of a "fond parient" we know of. He heard his daughter and her fellow plan an elopement. The next day the old man waited upon the young one, and addressed him thus:

"You're a fine, brave youth, and I don't object to you as a son-in-law. Here's a hundred dollars to aid in the elopement. May you live happily in the same house, and may no accident occur to throw the least shade on the sunshine of your life. All I request is, that you elope with my daughter—she's a mighty nice girl, you know, but somehow her mother and I could never travel smoothly with her, we don't know her good points—elope with her to such a distance that she won't return to her loving father and mother any more. Good bye, sonny, and may you be happy."

There was an elopement that evening of one. The young man was unaccompanied. He thought everything couldn't be right, when the old cock was so anxious to get rid of the girl. The father looks upon this act a very neat bit of strategy for one who had never been on M'Clellan's staff.

To Go Snacks.

It was formerly the custom in England to appoint certain persons to examine the bodies of the dead, in order to ascertain and report the cause of death. Such persons were termed "body-searchers." In the time of "the great plague," in 1665, which swept off upwards of one hundred and thirty thousand people this important and dangerous office was performed by the "chirurgeons," or surgeons, who were allowed for each service twelve pence, to be paid out of the estate of the deceased person, or by the parish in case he left no property. It is said that one of these "searchers," who rejoiced in the name of Snacks, found his business increase so much that he could not attend to it alone. He agreed to share the profits equally with any one who would take an equal share in the labor and the danger. Those who joined him were said to "go with Snacks," or, more briefly, "to go Snacks;" and hence the phrase came to mean, "to divide the spoils in equal proportion," or "to go shares," in which sense it has become proverbial.

JOX says that if a man feels much like getting married, yet imagines he ought not to, the best remedy he knows is to help one of his neighbors to move a house full of furniture—borrow about nine of his children and hear them cry. If that fails, build up a fire of damp wood, when the smoke in the room is thickest, hire a woman to scold him about four hours. If he can stand all these, he had better get married the next day—give his wife the pants and be the "silent partner" in the great firm of matrimony. The remedy is severe, but as every man is liable to these things after he yokes himself, it would do no harm to try it before.

THERE is dignity about that going away alone, we call dying—that wrapping the mantle of immortality about us; that putting aside with a pale hand azure curtains that are drawn around this cradle of a world; that venturing away from home for the first time in our lives, for we are not dead—there is nothing dead to speak of, and we only go off seeking foreign countries not laid down on the map we know about. There must be lovely lands somewhere starward, for none ever return that go thither, and we very much doubt if any would if they could.

AT a school at Wallsend, near Newcastle, the master asked a class of boys the meaning of the word "appetite." After a short pause, one little boy said, "I know, sir; when I'm eatin' I'm 'appy, and when I'm done I'm tight."

SKETCH OF JAY COOKE.

Mr. Jay Cooke, about whose personal history and circumstances prior to the war so much has been said, and who is again before the public in his recently published defence of the national banking system, was born in 1822, in Sandusky, Ohio. His father was Mr. Eleutherys Cooke, an eminent lawyer and prominent citizen, one of the earliest settlers of that section of the State, who, for a time, represented his district in Congress. Jay Cooke, a self-reliant and energetic boy, commenced his business life at the age of thirteen, and from that time succeeded. For four years he was employed in mercantile houses, first in Sandusky and then in St. Louis.

At seventeen he entered the banking house of E. W. Clark & Co., Philadelphia, as a clerk, and at twenty-one became a partner in that firm and its connections, Clark, Dodge & Co., New York; Clark Brothers & Co., St. Louis; and J. W. Clark & Co., Boston, and soon after he became managing partner of the Philadelphia firm. His connection with these houses resulting in a competency, and about 1858 he retired from business. In 1860, in connection with Mr. William G. Moorhead, a wealthy capitalist, Mr. Cooke established the banking house of Jay Cooke & Co, Philadelphia, and in 1861, after the breaking out of the war the negotaition of the original seven-thirty loan was the occasion of the first connection of Mr. Jay Cooke and his house with the finances of the government.

The Washington house of Jay Cooke & Co, was opened in 1862, and co-operated with the Philadelphia house in popularizing the first five-twenty loan and the three series of seven thirties. The New York house of the same name was opened after the war, in March, 1867. In all his government negotiations Mr. Cooke has appealed directly to the people, and, after his own remarkable energy and enthusiasm in all his pursuits, his great success in these matters has lain in his unwavering faith in the good sense and patriotism of the masses.

EDITORS.

An exchange draws the following vivid picture of an editor:—

An editor's qualifications are various. It is to work harder, more hours in the day, with less recreation, on less sleep and poorer pay than any of your fellow mortals. It is to be busy when your neighbors are idle, busier when they sleep, and busiest when they are enjoying a good time. It is to be always in a hurry, always under a press of business, always "setting up" when others are lying down and always charitably "distributing" the results of daily labor. It is to have your opinions always put to "proof," and se'dom into practice. It is to advertise other people's wants, wishes and wares, to announce facilities for pleasure; to herald the approach of diseases and the inventions of cures for them; to make known who has been robbed, how much where, who is the robber, his personal history, his trial, sentence, and its execution. It is to receive nice fruit and notice it, to be shown natural curiosities and describe them, to be everywhere at all times, and to be able to answer all questions on all subjects. It is to publish too much sentiment for one, too much politics for another, and to little news for all. It is to make a dozen enemies to one friend, and to be pitched into by anybody who chooses to consider himself aggrieved. It is to take complimentary tickets to everything and pay for them in complimentary notes. It is to be bored by friends suggesting how you should carry on your business, and bullied by those whom you have hit in vulnerable spots. It is a life of mingled good and ill, trial and triumph, never ending toil and never beginning felicity, wherein you work out your allotted time with the "devil" always at your elbow, calling for the sole end in this life—a little more copy.

THE HOPE OF MAN.—Final success—the joy of life's ripe harvest, is the goal of our hopes. No wise or thoughtful man will live merely for to-day. The pilgrim who seeks a home is not content to linger and loiter for the mere flowers beside his way. The sower looks onward to fields white and ready for the sickle. Wisdom has regard to the grand issue. The triumph or pleasures of to-day is transitory. We want a hope that does not sink with the setting sun. The true success of life is that which does not fail the evening of our days and leave them to blight or barrenness. We want the shout of "harvest home," that will not die into silence with the falling breath, but makes the passage to the grave a whispering gallery where heaven and earth talk together.

A VIRGINIA letter writer says of Mosby: "He looks the lawyer even less than the warrior. Dressed in careless, easy, Virginia style, with white slouch hat, a dust-stained, bob-tail coat, milk and molasses colored pants and vest, (the latter minus two or three buttons,) a badly adjusted false front tooth, a figure of medium size, close shaven, sunburnt, youthful face, slouched shoulders, quiet, taciturn, undemonstrative in manner, it was not quite easy to believe that he was the individual whose name and dare-devil achievements figured in the papers almost daily during the war.

PREDICTION OF SENATOR WILSON.—In his letter to the great meeting at the Cooper Institute in New York, on the 16th ult., the Hon. Herny Wilson, Senator from Massachusetts, said:

"At the present moment, when the echoes of the Rebel cheers over victories more fleeting than their own, fill our ears, I say to my Republican comrades of New York, the Republican party will give their Presidential candidate the electoral votes of thirty of the thirty-seven States, more than 3,000,000 of the popular votes, and more than 500,000 popular majority, and a Congress with a two-thirds majority in both Houses.

A MISS SPENT life—squandering all your salary on a girl who does not care for you.

Broken Vows.

Promises are lightly spoken;
Vows on which we blindly build
(Uttered only to be broken)
Go forever unfulfilled
Oft betrayed but still believing—
Duped again and yet again—
All our hoping, all our grieving
Warns us, but it warns in vain.

From the cradle to the coral—
From the sunny days of youth—
We are taught the simple moral,
Still we doubt the moral's truth.
When a boy they found me rather
Loth to do as I was bid.
"I shall buy a birch," said father.
Broken vows! He never did.

Grown extravagant, when youthful,
In my tailor's debt I ran;
He appeared about as truthful
In his talk as any man.
Let me tell how he sold me;
"Look you, Mr. What's Your-Name
I shall summon you," he told me—
But the summons never came.

Through the meadows, daisy laden,
Once it was my lot to stray,
Talking to a lovely maiden
In a very spoony way;
And I stole a kiss—another—
Then another—then a lot.
"Pie!" she said, "I'll tell my mother"
Idle words: she told her not.

Gold Discovery.

WEST MIDDLESEX, MERCER CO., PENNA., November 13, 1867.

The workmen employed by Colonel James Hemphill, in sinking a shaft for ore or coal, struck a vein of rock, strongly intermixed with a substance at first supposed to be sulphur. Upon the examination of the rock by Colonel Hemphill and his superintendent, Mr. Mills, and after severe tests, they pronounce it to be gold of superior quality, and capable of yealding five thousand dollars to the ton. The rock is about the same as that in which the Greene county gold is said to have been found, and lies about one hundred feet below the coal level in this basin.

Shakespere is now credited with the discovery of the laws of gravitation, about which there das been some late dispute with reference to Newton and Pascal. The following lines in "Troilus and Cressida" are the basis of the assertion:

"But the strong base and building of my love
Is as the very center of the earth,
Drawing all things to it."

And in the same play we find the expression, "True as the earth to its center." So that it would really seem as if Shakespeare had anticipated Newton by a hundred years or so in the discovery of one of the greatest of natural truths.

The Waynesburg Republican.

WAYNESBURG, PENN'A.

Wednesday, Nov. 20, '67.

DEMOCRACY VS. NEGRO.

The question of abandoning the negro to his enemies both North and South now seems to engage the attention of pseudo Republicans throughout the land. It is argued that necessarily the idea of giving him equal political rights must be deferred or the party that liberated him and saved the Union must perish. No elaborate reasoning is required to confront such argument. We have asserted and still maintain that the cry of re-action is not warranted because of the temporary success of our adversaries. There is nothing to prove it. No amount of figuring will wipe out the fact that the recent elections were allowed to go by default by our stay-at-home voters, partly as a rebuke to our leaders, partly from a division on local issues and more especially to secure their own nominee for the Presidency in '68. The negro is Democratic stock-in-trade and has been for years. Unwillingly he was dragged into the contest and, as Harper's Weekly truly remarks, the Democracy expends its force and eloquence in defaming him. That journal is equally true in its assertion, that Democracy's highest strain is that this is a white man's government, which is true as a matter of fact, since of thirty millions of people only four are colored. But it is wholly untrue as an argument for the exclusion of colored men from suffrage, for there has never been a time in the history of the country when they have not voted in some of the States. By incessant denunciations of "nigger equality," as well as by the most contemptible falsehoods, the Democratic party tries to inflame the hostility of race. While in the city of New York and elsewhere in the North there is no degree of bestiality into which a white human being can sink so low that he is not still a good enough voter and an intelligent fellow-citizen, yet the colored man everywhere is of necessity of an inferior race, semi-civilized, a barbarian, ignorant and degraded. The staple of Democratic speeches is ridicule of the negro, or a solemn effort to prove his total incapacity for intelligent citizenship. Now we ask for a single evidence of that incapacity as a class which is not equally true of the foreign-born voters of the city of New York as a class. And we ask any man who wishes the speedy return of peace and prosperity to the country whether he trusts the statesmanship of a party which systematically excites hostility between the Irish-born and the colored population. It is the old tactics of the slaveholding oligarchy which always fostered the mutual jealousy of the poor whites and the slaves.

The Democratic party claims to be peculiarly conservative. Conservative of what? Of the great principles of liberty, of equality before the laws, of of equal defenses of rights, of governments of all the people? By no means. It is merely conservative of the traditions of caste and slavery, which the country has outgrown; of class supremacy, of class legislation, of unequal laws, of governments from which half of the people are arbitrarily excluded. Of what is the Democratic part conservative? Is it of the Constitution? One of its chief candidates for the Presidency, Mr. Horatio Seymour, attacks the Senate as unjustly constituted. Is it of the national good faith and fame? The other of its Presidential candidates, Mr. Pendleton, demands repudiation. It will not be denied that the most intelligent and highly civilized parts of the country are politically Republican; and the most ignorant sections Democratic. In the city of New York it can not be disputed that the parts which are the least enlightened give the heaviest Democratic majorities. Now is ignorance truly conservative? Does any body who is competent to pronounce suppose that the political majority in the city of New York represents as real a conservatism as the majority in the State of Iowa or Massachusetts?

We repeat that the policy of the Democratic party in the present situation of the country is founded upon bitter hostility to a part of the population, and upon disregard of the principles of the Constitution and of public honor. It is conservative in no other sense whatever than that of the old Tory conservatism in England which protested that to abolish the death penalty for stealing a leg of mutton was to sweep away the bulwarks of the Constitution. Its whole course is a series of tactics for getting into power. There is no evidence any where of a serious desire to deal fairly with the pressing questions of the country. The only thing everywhere evident is that it has changed no opinions, that it holds as strongly as ever to the spirit of the Virginia and Kentucky resolutions of '98; that it honors and trusts most the men who were the the most subservient to the domination of slavery in the government; and and that it wholly and contemptuously denies that government should rest upon the expressed consent of the governed. Should it return to power we must expect every question settled by the war to be reopened. We must anticipate repudiation and a commercial convulsion such as no country ever experienced. We must be prepared for a policy toward the freedmen upon which the civilized world would cry shame. The success of the Democratic party would be the restoration of the rebellion to power.

The Democratic President makers are seriously looking about them for some one who is willing to endure the martyrdom of a nomination. McClellan, Seymour, Pendleton, Vallandigham, Sherman, and yet others, are spoken of, with the chances in favor of Pendleton. They will have a hard time in making a decision. All with the exception of Sherman are eligible so far as record goes. He, having been engaged in the war on the Union side, and having warred so effectually, too, would be nauseating to the radical and rebel wing of the party. They cannot consistently choose him nor any man that has a corresponding war record. Pendleton is undoubtedly the man. He who in his political career "never voted a man or a dollar to sustain the war." That is the idea exactly and should be incorporated in their next platform. Either of the others would do for the Vice-Presidency, but a thoroughly Democratic ticket cannot be made out without Ohio Val., the prince of Copperheads, unless the Ohio Legislature appease him with the Senatorship. Shape it as they may, it is easy to forsee that defeat only awaits them if they fight the battle on cardinal principles.

ARE YOU DOING IT?

Republicans are you laboring for the success of our principles? With the sting of defeat yet rankling in your bosoms do you still consecrate yourselves to the demon Apathy? Remember the tortoise wins the race if his antagonist sleeps.

More than one half of the Republicans in our county are not subscribers to their local organ, and but few of the opposite party have the advantages of reading sound political doctrine. Show them we are not afraid to contest our views in the light of truth and reason, by placing the REPUBLICAN or other genuine reading in the hands of every voter. Do it now, let them have time for thought. Republicanism follows Intelligence and Reflection as certain as effect follows cause.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

It appears that during October the Treasury Department has issued $14,000 of Five Per Cent. Bonds, called Ten-Forties. Since the publication of the Debt, Secretary McCulloch has announced that there will be no further sale of this class of securities by the Government for the present.

The contraction of Legal Tenders has been up to the full amount allowed by law—four millions of dollars—and fourteen million of Compound Legal Tenders, also, have been cancelled.

The most important feature of the report, however, is the amount of Floating Debt which has been turned into long obligations. Of all this class of securities there are but two kinds now afloat—the last two series of Seven-thirties. Of these issues, which amounted to five hundred and thirty millions of dollars, about two hundred millions have been converted into 5-20s, and the remaining ones are being redeemed at the rate of one million per day.

The amount of debt bearing coin interest was Nov. 1st, $1,778,110,991; bearing currency interest, $426,768,640; bearing no interest, $133,948,399; matured debt not presented for payment, $18,237,538. Amount of debt, less cash in treasury, $2,491,504,450. Reduction since last statement, $3,782,996.

CONGRESS meets on the 21st of November. This is only the continuation of the last session by an adjournment. The first regular session commences on the first Monday of December being the 2d day. The President's Message and the Department Reports will probably not be presented till the regular session commences. Attorney Gen'l, Stanberry has unoffically declared that the session is unconstitutional.

IT is estimated that one million and a half of souls have been sacrificed on this continent to the demon of Slavery. For Slavery substitute its synonym Democracy and then contemplate the fearful peril that overshadows the country in the success of its advocates.

NEW YORK CITY ELECTION.

The New York Citizen, edited by Col. Halpine, ("Miles O'Reilley") a staunch Democrat, discloses the following relative to the recent election:

"It is notorious that the organization, utterly unscrupulous, and with uncontrolled access to the City Treasury, must have spent an aggregate of not less than $300,000 of private and public money in the recent contest. All the pay-rolls of the city departments for the past two months have been lengthened and strengthened by thousands upon thousands of sincere 'inspectors' and other place-holders—assigned to nominal duty, but really with no other charge than to electioneer for the candidates.

"It is notorious, also, that with the enormous money power thus placed under its control, there was an enormous illegal or 'repeating' vote organized and registered—say not less than from 17,000 to 20,000 fraudulent votes—of which not less than from 10,000 to 12,000 reached the ballot-box; the remainder being either scared off by the activity and early arrests of the police, or being unable, from shere lack of time between sunrise and sunset, to vote in as many election districts as they were registered in—one case having been trustworthily reported to us of a man who was registered in no less than 58 election districts!

Men elected by this means would administer and make laws to suit themselves. This accounts for the squandering of public funds in that State. The principal Senators are of the ring; the Assemblymen are from the grog shops, and there are several prize-fighters among the elect. But they are all Democrats, and that covers the whole as with a cloak.

AN important practical question bearing on the trial of Jefferson Davis will be whether the jurors shall be drawn from the white population only, or from the entire population of the county, irrespective of color. In the former case, a jury of ex-rebels may safely be expected. In the latter case, the jury would be likely to contain Union men. The trial of Jefferson Davis, for leading the rebellion in behalf of Slavery, should be before a jury made up in part of freedmen, if only for the historic justice not to say the dramatic beauty and harmony, of such a denouement.—Horace Greeley.

There has been too much "dramatic beauty and harmony" depicted in this travesty already. The "dramatic beauty" has been the fire, smoke and carnage that lit our hundreds of battlefields. "Harmony" to the tune of $2,500,000,000 expended by the nation, mingled with the wailings of the bereaved. It is time the certains should fall upon the scene.

THE Republican party has had no control over the executive department of the Government since the murder of Lincoln. It is the easiest matter in the world for its enemies to attribute the shortcomings of the Administration to the party in power. It is capital to magnify and dwell upon the wrongs and burdens endured, and all the more agreable because it can be done over our shoulders. The prudent man will at once detect the purpose of these scheming plunderers and whilst he will hold Congress in some measure responsible, he will not fail to charge the real greivances to their proper authors—the Democracy.

"MARYLAND REDEEMED!"

Among the telegraphic dispatches of the Philad. Daily News of the 5th, (a Johnson paper) we find the following:

"BALTIMORE, Nov. 4.—Mayor Banks is to be inaugurated at noon today, when Mayor Chapman retires, handing over to him the books, great seal etc. Large crowds will attend the inauguration.

Captain William Robinson, of the Confederate army, will be his private secretary, and Hon. John L Thomas having resigned the offiice of City Solicitor under Chapman, William H. Harris, who was judge advocate of the military courts under Jefferson Davis, is to have the important position.

Such are the fruits of the "Democratic" victories, over which the papers of that party in this State are now shouting so lustily.

GEN. MCCLELLAN did not return to this country in the Scotia. Private business will detain him in Paris until spring. Public business will keep him out of the White House longer than that.

THE STATE GUARD, is the name of a new paper to be started next month, at Harrisburg. The editorial managers are J. Robley Dunglison and Wien Forney, publisher Levi Kaufmmn, It is to be Republican in politics.

"A. J." WAS serenaded last week and responded with four pages of fools-cap. The only extemporary remark he made was, "Good night, God bless you!" Like the old drone that doles out blessings from the Vatican he is hated and pitied.

BRADLEY, the rebel bully who played a conspicuous part in the Surratt trial, has been finally excluded from the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, for contempt.

THAD. STEVENS has written a letter favoring the payment of government bonds in greenbacks and denunciatory of National Banks. This unexpected alliance of the "old Commoner" with his opponents will create new apprehensions on the subject. However, it is the opinion of but one man, and displays a spirit of independence we rather like.

PRENTICE says Brownlow may go to the Upper House in this world, but in the next he will go to the lower. To which the Fort Wayne (Ind.) Gazette retorts: We presume so; he has always been found in the midst of Democrats, fighting them.

TWENTY deaths have resulted from the recent explosion in Pittsburgh. More than $5,700 has been subscribed for the sufferers. The Smoky City sustains the good name gained her during the war.

THE subject of converting the common grounds of Allegheny into public parks is being agitated again by the citizens of the different corporations with some show of success.

THE WEST STEADY.

The reports from Wisconsin, says the Missouri Democrat, indicate a Republican majority of about six thousand, against about ten thousand at the last gubernatorial election. In Minnesota, again, the Republican majroity is larger than it was at the last State election; it was then about three thousand, and reports now claim five thousand perhaps more. In Chicago, the election on Tuesday resulted in a Republican majority of 3,979, against 3,933 at the city election, the Republicans gaining also in the council. In St. Louis, the election of Radical county judges shows a Radical gain since the vote of last fall, and in the Third district the meagre returns received give hope of the election of a Radical in the district carried last fall by a large majority by the conservatives. Kansas also elects Republicans, though by a reduced majority, while Iowa, Nebraska and Colorado, it will be remembered, show Republican gains.

On the whole, then, the reaction does not prevail to any extent in the Northwest. Solid votes, steady ranks majorities undiminished or increased, are the rule with the sturdy Republicans in this section, and if, in any locality, losses have appeared, they are due to exceptional causes, or to that over confidence which frequently loses elections of minor consequence. The reaction is an Eastern plant; it does not thrive in the Northwest.

A SINGULAR spectacle, remarks the Har. Telegraph, will shortly be before the world. Jeff. Davis, a traitor to free government, who warred for five years to perpetuate slavery, will be up for trial for treason in the new world. Garibaldi, a friend of freedom and equality, who had just opened his first battle to secure the nationality of his country, and who was arrested there, will be up for trial for treason in the old world. Davis shed oceans of blood in a cause whose success would have been death to freedom. Garibaldi was just beginning the fight for the right. The tyrants of the world hope for Davis' release while they will plot for Garibaldi's death. Another dispatch from Europe says that Garibaldi will not be tried, but that he and his two sons will be exiled to the United States. If this be true, the heroes will receive the grandest welcome any people ever accorded to patriotic men.

SAYS the Harrisburg Telegraph, the funding of the national debt, and the extension of the time for its general liquidation is now being thoroughly discussed in financial circles. It is proposed to consolidate the debt, bring it all under a uniform rate of interest, and then provide, by a judicious and equal system of taxation, for its future payment. Any measure to secure this debt will of course be popular with the people. The idea of immediate liquidation was never feasible. The present generation made the sacrifice of limb and life to secure the Union and Government, so that it is as little as future generations can do to pay the debts incurred to save the nation.

INFORMATION WANTED.—Of a boy about twelve years of age, rather slender of his years, with black eyes, dark hair, and had on a suit of very dark gray, home made flannel, a low crowned black hat, stiff brim, and calf-skin high shoes. He left the home of his parents in Salem township, Westmoreland county on the 21st of October, and is supposed to have made his way toward Pittsburgh. He is a smart boy a pretty good scholar for his years. His distressed parents will thankfully receive any information of him addressed to A. M. WOLF, Salem X Roads, Pa.

ON the 7th a terrible hurricane devastated the southern portion of the island of Porto Rico, one of the West Indies. Two hundred lives were lost and four thousand families rendered destitute. Provisions were to be landed free of duty for two months. Tortola a small island—containing forty-eight square miles—was submerged by the flood, which followed the wind storm, and ten thousand lives are reported to have been lost. The loss to the steam ship company at St. Thomas—also occasioned by the hurricane—will reach twelve millions of dollars.

THE cost of the original Capitol at Washington city was $400, 000. The additions; now nearly completed, will cost $12, 000,000.

THE Southerners are delighted with what they call the reaction. Progress and reform are dead ducks to them now and their jubilees are long and deep. One Southern paper is so impressed with the belief not only that progress has stopped, but retrogression has begun, that it openly changes its grammar and spelling and now spells music, musick, honor, honour, and says, the editor, his leader, instead of the editor's leader. Would it not be well to call the self-styled Democratsr etrogressors.—Pitts. Gazette.

IS is proposed to hold a national convention of manufacturers (of all kinds) at Cleveland, Ohio, on Wednesday December 18, to plan for joint action for the early repeal by Congress of internal taxes on manufactures and productions, except luxuries. This step is taken to meet a wide desire for the relief of our productive industry from heavy burthens which are deemed wholly unnecessary.

MR. EDWARD M. M'COOK, Consul at Honolulu, writes to the Secretary of State, affirming that all that has been said in favor of the climate and resources of Sitka is true; that the temperature is mild, the soil good, the fisheries abundant and remunerative, and the lumber good and inexhaustible. Sailing vessels have gone from Honolulu and from San Francisco to Sitka in ten days, and returned in equal time.

It is authoritively announced, that at the termination of the present brief tour of the Tom Thumb troupe, the renowned Commodore Nutt (of twenty five pounds) will lead to the altar the sweet little Minnie Warren (of twenty pounds.) Their united fortunes, accumulated by their public exhibitions within six years, are said to amount to a quarter of a million of dollars.

THE Philadelphia North American well remarks that "General Grant has set an example that Congress would do well to imitate. He applied the pruning knife boldly, and lopped off excresences and done a great deal of good work. Every million thus saved is so much surplus to be applied to the contraction of the principle of the interest-bearing debt."

THE Copperheads began to crow over the late elections in West Virginia; "but that was before they were out of the woods." The Republicans have increased their strength in the State Senate, and hold their last year's vote of four to one in the House. We like such Republican defeats.

WASHINGTON, November 16.—A formal petition for the pardon of Dr. Samuel A Mudd, now confined at the Dry Tortugas, as one of the conspirators in the murder of Mr. Lincoln, will shortly be presented to the President. It is believed that a number of prominent citizens of the North will sign it.

TEXAS is fast filling up with German emigrants who seek that State to engage in grazing large herds of cattle. If the unrepentant traitors do not molest this industrious German population, Texas will soon become one of the most prosperous sections of the country.

HORSE meat is decidedly becoming the fashion. Two new horse butcheries have been opened in Paris—one in the Rue Navarin and another in the Rue de Commerce. They have now eighteen shops entirely devoted to the sale of this new food.—Chronicle.

THE Tribune predicts that George H. Pendleton must inevitably be the next Democratic candidate for the Presidency. The party, elated by its success this year, feels strong enough to take up a man after its own heart, instead of a cold-blooded, undecided leader like M'Clellan.

THE Memphis Post says that about the doors of every corner grocery in the country towns in that region may be found a half a score of men, smoking cob pipes, and demanding vehemently, "Where the dash shall we get labor to raise our cotton?"

THREE thousand emigrants arrived at New York last week. Total, since January last, two hundred thousand.

$200 REWARD is offered by the Sheriff of Cambria Co., Pa., for the arrest of Cyrus Thompson, the man who murdered a boy named McDonald recently in Johnstown. He answers to the following description: 5 feet 10 inches high, 150 lbs. weight, dark eyes, black hair, dark complexion, age 36 years. The following letter has been received by Constable Campbell of our county:

JOHNSTOWN PENNA. }
November, 14th, 1867. }

High Constable or Chief of Police.—

SIR—In addition to the Sheriff's reward I will give (50) fifty dollars for the arrest of said Cyrus Thompson, the murderer of my son. He has been lurking about in Laurel Ridge of the Alleghanies since the murder. From information gained I think he has, or is about leaving for the South west or the West, most probably with the intention of enlisting under a false name. His safest course is to pass through your part of the State, which way, I think, he has gone. You will greatly oblige me by keeping a sharp look-out for this murderous villian, who has robbed us of a dear child. Your Bereaved Friend,

DANIEL McDONALD.

WHAT action did our town council take at their last meeting towards the confinement of stock in the borough limits? But for this we might have had a park at the west end of town ere this and our commons would have been ornamented and improved. Nothing looks worse than to see animals at large in the streets, nothing speaks louder against the refinement and progressiveness of our citizens.

STAGE OF THE RIVER.—The Pittsburgh Gazette states that the Monongahela river is in excellent order, so far as dams and locks are concerned, from Pittsburg to Geneva, but it is wofully deficient of water. At points above an immense quantity of coal in barges and boats waits a rise to get down to Cincinnati, Louisville, and other places dependent on us for fuel. The prospects for an early rise are by no means brilliant. Those inclined to be weather-wise cling to the belief that we will have full channels before the present month closes. We are now in the middle of November, with no signs of a rain or rise. Should the winter set in early and prove severe, the river will close with ice, until the coming of the spring rise in March or April.

LAST Monday night our street was resonant with hoots and yells, curses and language most obscene, coming from the throats of drunken rowdies. And it was kept up with impunity till near daylight much to the disquietude of the community. If our officers haven't the care or "sand," to stop this we shall feel it our duty to ascertain the names of these midnight prowlers and hold them up for public execration. Remember then, we shall consider a drunken whoop as a plea for an advertisement and shall insert it as such tf. In this way they can obtain the publicity desired.

THIS is the holiday season for the rural lads and lassies. The country is full of "corn huskings," "nut crackings," and joviality rules the hour. The husbandman looks around upon his broad fields just springing into life with the new sown grains, and smiles with thanks for the abundant harvest over and the rich promises for the next year. The fatted cattle are upon a thousand hills, and on every side contentment reigns. Only have those sorrow, and repining, and bitterness who do not take the paper. To them the long wintry evenings will pass with dull and flagging interest. The busy world moves on past them with rapid strides; and to them seasons open and close with but monotonous, never-varying pace and in their homes no cheerful corner is set apart for the reading of the paper and the gossip with intelligent and "posted" neighbors, who read and think of events going on and happening around them. The REPUBLICAN is only $2 per year; and at that low price your leisure hours can be filled in with instructive and entertaining reading, and your children will grow up and keep pace with the world growing about them. Enclose $2, 00 in a letter stating your name and postffice address, and the paper will be sent to you for one year, postage free.

SOME three or four weeks ago the wind blew a panel of latticing from the west side of the Court House cupola, lodging it on the roof, where it remains. If this is the proper place the other had best be transferred to the roof at once.

DEATH OF JOHN S. BRADY, ESQ.—John Spear Brady, Esq., the oldest member of the Washington county Bar, died in Greensburg on the 11th inst., in the 73d year of his age. The Washington Reporter says: Jno. Spear Brady was born at Greensburg, Westmorland county, Pennsylvania, in the year 1794, being the youngest son of the Honorable James Brady, who was once Secretary of the Land Office. He was educated at Washington College, graduating in the class of 1814. He was the oldest member of the Bar, having been admitted on the 25th day of June, 1817. He studied law in the office of Parker Campbell, Esq., a gentleman of great and distinguished ability, and the recognized peer of such men as Henry Baldwin, James Ross and Philip Doddridge.

PLANTATION BITTERS will not raise the dead,
But they cure the sick, exalt the depressed,
And render life a thing to be enjoyed.

We believe there are millions of living witnesses to this fact. Dispepsia is a horrid disease, but Plantation Bitters will cure it. It is a most invigorating tonic, for weakness and mental despondency. Those who are "out of sorts" should try Plantation Bitters.

GOOD ROADS.—To the Ten Mile Coal works —along the new pike. Sayers Bros.

THE fact that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue has exempted from all tax the funds which are raised by the Washington Library Company of Philadelphia, for the endowment of the Riverside Institute; also that Messrs. George A. Cooke & Co., the well-known Bankers, No. 33 South Third Street, Philadelphia, have consented to act as receivers of the money thus raised, together with the names of those well-known and prominent citizens who have associated themselves with the Institute, and have consented to act as Trustees, should certainly be a sufficient guarantee to the public that every pledge and promise will be carried out to the letter. The method adopted for the endowment of this much-needed institution is one by which every individual actually receives more than could be obtained with the same amount of money if expended in the ordinary way. In the distribution of presents every one stands an equal chance, one present being guaranteed for each share of stock. Read Advertisement.

RETIRED.—James F. Campbell has retired from the Uniontown Genius, having disposed of his interest to his partner, F. S. Rock. $5000 was to much for that whistle "at any rate."

THE Pittsburg Gazette, of which we publish prospectus elswhere, is now a forty column sheet and a journal of which Western Pennsylvania may justly be proud. Its thrift can only be attributed to the energy and enterprise with which it is conducted. If you already take your county paper and want one from the city subscribe for the Gazette.

HEAVY white frosts are visible every morning.

How long until we shall have the unsightly piles of mud, caused by planting trees, removed from the yard and pavement of the square? How long?

NO GO.—The "shooting affray" that was to come off among the celestials on the nights of the 15, and 16, was postponed from "causes unknown." Whether the difficulty was settled, "deponent sayeth not," one thing is certain they failed to give "satisfaction" "here below."

"SIT LUX."—If there can be any method devised whereby we can have the street lamps lighted we think the last few dark nights would suggest it. Our sidewalks are none too good and they are doubly bad in such times. Light up before somebody breaks their neck over a cellar door!

WHISKEY SEIZED.—Last week Detective Walker, of Fayette County, seized some eight or ten barrels of Whiskey, belonging to dealers here, which he alleges was put in the market by one Allen, of Brownsville, without paying the revenue.

THE LATEST CUT.—For sale at N. Clark, & Son's, the "Black Crook" handkerchief. To see is to buy.

"OH, how comfortable and how well she looks!" is the exclamation that escapes a bystander when some sensible lady trips by enveloped in handsome Furs and Muff purchased of Frank McGurgan. Go and buy.

A BIT OF NEWS.—The last sensation is the arrival of Sayers & Hoskinson's New Goods, for Winter consumption. Something for every body.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—The December issue closes the year with a highly attractive number. This is one of the live, progressive Magazines, and while it gives ample space to matters of fashion and needlework, it spreads before the reader monthly an ample and varied feast of the choicest literature.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

MONDAY, Nov. 19, 1867.

The general markets have been remarkably dull during the past week, and what is worse still, there is but little prospect of any immediate improvement. The impression still gains ground that prices will go lower, and this, together with the unsettled condition of financial matters, and extreme tightness in the money markets, has a tendency to retard operations in all of the leading and speculative commodities, and restricts the general volume of business.

We quote as follows, which are the wholesale store prices, unless otherwise noted:

GRAIN AND FLOUR.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

The Pittsburg "Gazette" of Thursday November 14, 1867, says, There was only a moderate supply of cattle this week, but with no material improvement in the demand, the market, as a general thing, was devoid of life or animation, and the transactions in the aggregate, show a perceptible falling off. There was a fair attendance of buyers and really good cattle, of which there were but very few in market, sold without much difficulty at full prices, while prime to extra stock, had there been any of this particular description on sale, would doubtless have brought an advance; the former may be quoted at 6½@7c. For common and inferior cattle the market continues exceedingly dull and with but little prospect of any immediate improvement; good to prime stock cattle were in fair demand and sold at from 4½ to 5c, and one bunch of prime feeding cattle brought within a fraction of 6c. The impression among dealers is that cattle of all grades will rule low during the winter but in the spring particularly good cattle, will be higher; as a consequence a larger number than they would otherwise have done, and it is possible that this policy may defeat the very end which it was to accomplish.

HOGS—The hog market has been fairly active during the past week, the sales in the aggregate being large, and prices are firm, and compared with last week, prime heavy averages, if anything, are a shade higher. Quotations may be fairly given at 6@6c. for fair to prime, while "scalawags" sold at 5½@5½c.

NEW YORK DRY GOODS MARKET.

NEW YORK, November 15.—The weather is delightful and business fair, while prices are unchanged. Brown Sheetings of the best makes are scarce, and held at 15½, others 13½@14. Print Cloths are held at 7. Prints are steady. Desiers, 15½@17. Paper Cambrics, 8½@12½.

PHILADELPHIA MARKET.

PHILADELPHIA, November 16.—Flour dull; Superfine, $7,50@8,50. Wheat steady; Red, $2,20@2,25; Prime, $1,55. Corn firmer; 12,000 bush Mixed Western, at $1,37@1,38½. Oats steady, at 68@70c. Whiskey dull.

SPURIOUS TWENTY-FIVE cent notes have just made their appearance. They may be known by the paper being a trifle thicker than the genuine, and the green on the back a trifle lighter. The vignette of Fessenden is, at first glance, fully as correct as that of the genuine; but a close scrutiny shows that it is a good wood-cut, and not a steel engraving.

A FIRE occurred on Genessee street, Syracuse, N. Y., on the 15th inst., destroying property valued at $300,000.

The President has granted a pardon to James A. Seddon, late Secretary of War of the rebel confederacy.

MEDICAL.

D. WHITTLESY.

DR. F. WHITTLESY, Physician for Chronic Diseases, has a permanent office in Washington, Pennsylvania, where he has been engaged for the past twelve years in the successful treatment of all DISEASES OF A CHRONIC NATURE.

The Doctor might present a volume of certificates of cures, complimentary notices, &c., but the most satisfactory testimonial will be given the public in a trial of his skill. Dr. W. devotes exclusive attention to Chronic Ailments, in which his practice has been uniformly successful, effecting cures in many cases that have baffled all other systems of treatment.

Paralysis, Rheumatism, Bronchitis, Catarrah, Deafness, Diseases of the Spine, Stomach, Heart, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, Lungs, Female Diseases, General Debility, &c., &c.,

Are all promptly and permanently cured by the Doctor's system of treatment. During the past few years, the Doctor has registered hundreds of cures to which he will be pleased to give those references who may call upon him. He invites all afflicted with any form of Chronic disease and having failed to obtain relief, to

GIVE HIS MEDICINES A TRIAL.

His principal agents are selected entirely from the Vegetable Kingdom, and these are so combined as to equalize the vital forces of the body and thereby restore it to perfect health. The Doctor has been especially successful in the treatment of all

FEMALE DISEASES.

Women by the score fall victims to maladies peculiar to their sex, many of whom might be saved from lives of wretchedness and premature graves by applying in time to Dr. W. The remedies employed in the practice of Dr. W. are manufactured exclusively by him from his own Medical Laboratory and are always "pure in quality and specific in effect. Dr. W. diagnoses disease by means of the Urine, the only infallible test of disease, never failing to discover its nature, locality and curability, thus enabling him to employ a

RATIONAL, SCIENTIFIC AND CURATIVE TREATMENT.

Of the absolute certainty of his mode of diagnoses he can satisfy every patient who gives him a trial, from the urine alone he will tell accurately all that can be known of any disease. In the examination of this secretion, he employs optical, chemical and microscopical tests, no case being presented in which one of these tests is not sufficient to an accurate diagnoses. The Doctor does not claim to be a "cure all," nor yet "the right arm of the Almighty stretched forth to save the world from premature dissolution," but he does profess from scientific acquirements and

YEARS OF EXPERIENCE,

Devoted exclusively to the treatment of chronic ills, with his infallible tests of disease, to be able to relieve and permanently cure all those cases which are not already beyond the reach of remedies.

THE WONDER OF THE AGE!

TIME, MONEY AND LABOR SAVED!

THE LATEST & BEST CHURN!

One of the latest Patents, issued on the 11th day of September, 1866, to Wm. R. McCutcheon, of Washington, Iowa, will be on exhibition in a few days at in Waynesburg, Pa. This CHURN must supercede anything of the kind heretofore produced. The simpleness of its construction, and its twofold or reversed motion, that produces butter from three to six minutes must induce the community to examine its qualities. It saves time—it saves work—and produces as much butter as any churn in existence. Mr. Munnell has full power to sell rights for Pennsylvania or New York State as well as to furnish Churns to citizens of this county.

JOHN MUNNELL'S,

Sewing Machines.

THE WORLD RENOWNED

SINGER

SEWING MACHINE.

OUR NEW FAMILY MACHINE,

Has been over two years in preparation, and which has been brought to perfection regardless of time, labor or expense, and is now confidently presented to the public as incomparably the best Sewing Machine in existence.

The Machine in question is simple, compact, durable and beautiful. It is quiet, light running and capable of performing a range and variety of work never before attempted upon a single Machine—using either Silk, Twist, Linen or Cotton Thread, and sewing with equal facility the very finest and coarsest materials, and anything between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and substantial manner. Its attachments for Hemming, Braiding, Cording, Tucking, Quilting, Felling, Trimming, Binding, etc., are Novel and Practical, and have been invented and adjusted especially for this Machine.

New designs of the unique, useful and popular folding tops and cabinet cases peculiar to the Machines manufactured by this Company have been prepared for enclosing the new Machines. These are gotten up in every variety of wood, such as Black Walnut, Mahogany, Rosewood, and the like, and from the plainest to the most elaborate pattern and finish—the Machines themselves being more or less highly ornamented, to correspond with the Tables or Cabinets for which they are intended.

A few reasons why SINGER'S latest improved SEWING MACHINES are the best for Family and General Purposes.

1st. You can sew anything from the finest single thickness of Swiss or Nansook to several thicknesses of the heaviest Beaver cloth, using any kind or size of thread with equal facility, from No. 200 Cotton up to the heaviest patent or Linen thread.

2d. It uses a short, straight needle, easily set, and makes the popular Lock Stitch alike on both sides.

3d. It has an even self-adjusting tension which requires no change for different thicknesses of material or different sizes of thread.

4th. It is free from all springs, wires and other complications, and is almost noiseless.

5th. No threads to hold or wheels to turn in starting.

6th. It does not have to be taken apart to oil and clean it.

7th. It has a perfect feed whereby you can sew the finest materials without having to keep your work stretched to prevent its "puckering," and you never have to assist the work through as in all other machines.

8th. It will hem any width, sew a straight seam, or make a fell in the most perfect manner, with less skill than is required to sew a straight seam on any other machine.

Its attachments for Braiding, Cording, Quilting, Binding, Tucking, &c., are novel and practical, and require but little skill to use them.

Careful instructions given at the house of the purchaser.

Money refunded if the machines are not as represented.

Every machine warranted and kept in repair three years without charge.

"UNQUESTIONABLY THE BEST SUSTAINED WORK OF THE KIND IN THE WORLD."

HARPER'S

NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE.

CRITICAL NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

The most popular Monthly in the world.—NEW YORK OBSERVER.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellence of HARPER'S MAGAZINE—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the culture of the American people; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading-matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood-cuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—TRUBNER'S GUIDE TO AMERICAN LITERATURE, London.

We can account for its success only by the simple fact that it meets precisely the popular taste, furnishing a variety of pleasing and instructive reading for all.—ZION'S HERALD, Boston.

HARPER'S WEEKLY,

SPLENDIDLY ILLUSTRATED.

CRITICAL NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

The model newspaper of our country—complete in all the departments of an American Family Paper—HARPER'S WEEKLY has earned for itself a right to its title, "A Journal of Civilization."—N. Y. EVENING POST.

Our future historians will enrich themselves out of HARPER'S WEEKLY long after writers, and printers, and publishers are turned to dust.—N. Y. EVANGELIST.

The best of its class in America.—BOSTON TRAVELLER.

HARPER'S WEEKLY may be universally declared the best newspaper in America.—THE INDEPENDENT, New York.

The articles upon public questions which appear in HARPER'S WEEKLY from week to week form a remarkable series of brief political essays. They are distinguished by clear and pointed statement, by good common sense, by independence and bredth of view. They are the expression of mature conviction, high principle, and strong feeling, and take their place among the best newspaper writing of the time.—NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW, Boston, Mass.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1868,

HARRISBURG DAILY TELEGRAPH.

FULL REPORT OF LEGISLATIEE PROCEEDINGS.

TELEGRAPH PROCEEDINGS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

More than eleven years have elapsed since the undersigned undertook the hazardous task of establishing a daily paper at the Capitol of the State. In 1856, on the 7th day of October, the DAILY TELEGRAPH was first projected by the present proprietor, and we need not tell our readers that great doubts existed in the minds of many of our friends of our ability to sustain the same, with the limited means at command, but a fixed determination, energy and industry have crowned our effort with success, and the TELEGRAPH to-day bears abundant testimony that it is a "permanent institution" of the Capital city.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE AND CONGRESS.

It shall be our aim during the next winter to furnish complete and full reports of the proceedings of the National and State Legislatures, together with full telegraphic dispatches from all parts of the world.

The political complexion of the paper is so well known that we need not refer to it, and we can assure our Republican friends that notwithstanding the slight reverses during the past year we do not intend to take any step backward. Such is not the destiny of the Republican party, and we shall enter into the next Presidential contest with renewed vigor.

THE WEEKLY TELEGRAPH

Will be printed, as heretofore, on a large sheet, and not only contain all the important matters published in the DAILY, but also additional reports of the markets, &c., and extended notices of political matters of the State at large.

The ensuing Presidential campaign will be of the greatest importance, and we hope that every Republican in the State will assist us in circulating such documents as will bring the truth to every fireside in the country.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY.

The Weekly will be published regularly every Wednesday morning at the following rates, viz:

One copy, weekly for one year,	$2 00
Five copies, weekly, for one year, in one pack	9 00
Ten copies, weekly, for one year, in one pack	15 00
Twenty copies, weekly, for one year, in one pack	25 00
Fifty copies, weekly, for one year, in one pack	50 00

We have placed the price of our paper to clubs at the very lowest rates, and we hope to receive orders from our friends promptly. Address

ORIGIN AND HISTORY OF THE BOOKS OF THE BIBLE.

BY PROF. CALVIN E. STOWE, D. D.

Showing what the Bible is not; what it is, and how to use it; tracing the history of each book up to its origin with the inspired authors, and completely answering all infidel cavils and objections to the Scriptures. It is an ordinary library of Biblical History in a single volume, brief, clear, accurate, conclusive and highly interesting. A master-piece of common sense. It is needed in every family where the Bible is read, as well as by every Sabbath School teacher, student and clergymen, and being the only book on the subject ever published or sold in this country, agents can easily see the advantage of canvassing for this work. WANTED—A HEART.

I want, ah, me! I want a heart
But not a heart for love,
To feel the smart of Cupid's dart
And also rhyme with dove,
I do not want a manly heart,
With high desires to glow,
Or feel what friendship can impart,
And sympathy bestow.
The heart for which I long is none
Of man's, nor yet of maid's;
I only want a little one
To trump that trick in spades.

PAPAL REVOLUTION ENDED.

ROME, November 3, Evening.—During the past few days, General Garabaldi concentrated his forces around his former position at Monte Rotondo. Yesterday afternoon Signori Corte Crispi and Sevardent, supporters of his cause, and forming a deputation from the revolutionary society, begged of him to withdraw, stating that the Italian troops had crossed the frontier. Garibaldi refused, saying "he did not value his life in such a cause, and that a soldier ought not to count the number of his enemies." Signori Corte replied: "A General should." The deputation then left the camp.

This morning Garibaldi, with about three thousand of his command, having two guns, moved for Tivoli, to join Nicatero, one of his officers. In the meantime, the Papal Zouaves, who were advancing, had taken Tivoli at the point of the bayonet. Garibaldi's force did not know this, and were marching towards the same point. When they arrived at Milona they were surprised by seven battalions of the Papal army, supported by twelve guns, who attacked them in the front and on both flanks. The battle-ground was among the hills, with a country road running on both sides. The fighting continued fiercely for over an hour. In the hottest moment of the engagement Garibaldi had to be dragged away from the battle. His troops suffered much loss, and retreated toward Monte Rotondo pursued by the soldiers of the Pope. Here the fight was renewed and continued for over an hour, when the Garibaldian retreat became an utter rout.

It is believed here that General Garibaldi had nine hundred men killed, one thousand prisoners taken, and a great many wounded. Menotti Garibaldi was wounded slightly in the leg. The loss of the Papal force was not so heavy. Arrived at the Italian frontier, the retreating Garibaldians gave up their arms, except weapons which were their own private property, to the Italian regular troops.

TURIN, Afternoon, November 4.—Hundreds of wounded men are arriving here from the scene of the late engagements between the Gardibaldians and the Papal troops. They are conveyed by special railroad trains. The Italian regulars act in a very kindly manner to all, assisting in carrying them from the station to where they are laid, weeping like women on beholding the sad spectacle. Father Gavazzi has charge of the hospital.

FLORENCE, November 5.—The English Minister and Embassy here have requested King Victor Emanuel to treat Garibaldi leniently. It is said there will be no collison between the French and Italian troops. Italy is quiet.

Paris, November 5.—The La Presse, of this evening, says: The French Charge de affairs at Florence, was ordered to present on Sunday, to the King's Government, an ultimatum that the Italian troops which had been marched into Papal territory should evacuate it before Thursday evening, November 7th.

FLORENCE, November 6.—On Sunday Garibaldi, with 3,500 men and two cannon, left his camp near Monte Rotonda, to advance to the attack of Tivoli, which was held by the Papal troops. He found the latter to the number of 6,000 men, posted in strong position, and supported by artillery. The Pontifical troops immediately fired with their batteries upon the approaching Garibaldians. A desperate conflict ensued, which lasted fourty-five minutes, when Garibaldi retreated. The battle was renewed at Monte Rotondo. The insurgents fought with great obstinacy and kept up the conflict at this point for two hours and a half, when exhausted and overwhelmed, they gave way and were utterly routed. Four hundred and fifty insurgents were killed and nine hundred taken prisoners. No idea as to the number wounded can be ascertained. The total loss of the Papal troops was two hundred killed and wounded.

FLORENCE, November 6, P. M.—Garibaldi is now in prison at Vigevano, in Piedmont. He claims that he is a citizen of the United States, and privileges as such under the law of nations. The American Minister, Hon. George P. Marsh, has left Florence for Vigeveno to visit the General.

PARIS, P. M., November 6.—One division of the French troops which entered Rome has already been withdrawn from the city and returned to Civita Vecchia, and the rest will soon follow. The whole expedition for the relief of Rome will then remain at Civita Vecchia, and there await the action of Italy.

FLORENCE, Nov. 7.—Evening.—Accounts of the last engagement near Rome are received. During the battle on Sunday Garibaldi brought into action ten thousand men. At one time during the day the Papal troops were beaten, and Garibaldi was gaining ground, when the French came and turned his victory into defeat. It is now reported the insurgents lost eight hundred killed and wounded and two thousand taken prisoners.

NEAL DEVANNY was hung at Wilkesbarre on the 12th, inst., for the murder of his wife. He made a full confession of his guilt.
